Fooyin University Guidelines for Exemption of Foreign Language Competence Courses

Formulated at the 4th Academic Affairs Meeting on the 2014 academic year on June 26, 2015 Revised and approved at the 2nd Curriculum Committee Meeting on the Core Competence Education Division of the second semester of the 2015 academic year on April 13, 2016 Revised and approved at the 2nd Curriculum Committee Meeting on the Center for General Education of the second semester of the 2015 academic year on April 22, 2016 Revised at the Academic Affairs Meeting on April 29, 2016

 To enhance Fooyin University (FYU) students' competence in English and encourage them to pass the English proficiency test, the "Fooyin University Guidelines for Exemption of Foreign Language Competence Courses" is hereby formulated (hereinafter referred to as the "Guidelines").
Course Exemption Cuidelines:

2. Course Exemption Guidelines:

(1) FYU students obtaining the certificate of the CEFR A2 level or above, or fulfilling graduation requirements for English set by the FYU after being admitted to the university can apply for the exemption of the following courses of the school systems by providing the original certificate of academic result.

1. Elementary Levels (I) (II) of Foreign Language Competence in the four-year day-time technical programs

2. Elementary Level of Foreign Language Competence in the two-year day-time technical programs

(2) FYU students obtaining a certificate of the CEFR B1 level or above after being admitted to the university can apply for the exemption of the following courses of the school systems by providing the original certificate.

1. Elementary Levels (I) (II) and Introductory Levels (I) (II) of Foreign Language Competence in the four-year day-time technical programs

2. Elementary Level of Foreign Language Competence in the two-year day-time technical programs

3. Foreign Language Competence (I) (II) in the four-year further-study technical programs

4. English for Daily Communication (I) (II) in the four-year day-time technical programs

5. English for Daily Communication (I) (II) in the four-year further-study technical programs

(3) FYU students obtaining a certificate of the CEFR B2 level or above after being admitted to the university can apply for the exemption of the following courses of the school systems by providing the original certificate.

1. English (VII) in the five-year day-time junior college programs

2. Elementary Levels (I) (II), Introductory Levels (I) (II), and Ordinary Levels (I) (II) of Foreign Language Competence in the four-year day-time technical programs

3. Elementary Level and Ordinary Levels (I) (II) of Foreign Language Competence in the two-year day-time technical programs

4. Foreign Language Competence (I) (II) (III) (IV) in the four-year further-study technical programs

5. Foreign Language Competence (I) (II) in the two-year further-study technical programs

6. English for Daily Communication (I) (II) and Business English in the four-year day-time technical programs

7. Practical English and International Business English in the two-year day-time technical programs

8. English for Daily Communication (I) (II) and International Business English in the four-year further-study technical programs

9. Practical English and International Business English in the two-year further-study technical programs

(4) If students, before gaining admission to the university, have obtained the abovementioned certificates, they may be exempt from the courses of the school systems mentioned above.

However, they shall meet the graduation credits required by the school systems by taking the English-related elective courses offered by the Center for General Education or the departments.

- 3. In relation to the course exemption dependent on running a special project, the exemption may be processed as a special case.
- 4. For students who qualify for course exemption, they shall apply for exemption to the English learning group of the Core Competence Education Division by providing the certificate(s) by the end of the add/drop period. Upon approval, they may be exempt from the course(s).
- 5. The Guidelines shall be issued and implemented upon verification by the President after being approved at the Academic Affairs Meeting. Amendments shall follow the same procedure.